

Casa Algaba

S&C

Casa Algaba is a new space in Seville available to host small, unique, and different events. This includes commercials or advertising campaigns, film shoots, and events related to fashion and photography.

It is located 10 minutes away from the center of Seville. It is a complex of courtyards, apartments, and the house itself that make it a unique space in the city.

Decoration is a fundamental pillar of the house, mixing different styles, art, transformed furniture, and recycled items in a vintage style.

The complex has two main courtyards, a house on the ground floor with 200 square meters, and two loft-style apartments of 80 and 120 square meters, respectively.

Outside the house, there is a shop selling ceramic pots, iron furniture, and wrought iron made by the decorator Jesús Gómez.

Casa Algaba has been a focus of attraction for several international decoration and fashion magazines, such as AD Magazine.
